

Infinite Dimensions Healing™

Infinite Dimensions Healing is bringing about somatic awareness through supportive touch, listening, and creativity, to give the body and the mind the possibilities of healing. Combining the feeling of lightness, safety and support, along with music, the principals of Touchabilities and Unified Therapy™, we allow the subconscious brain to connect through consciousness with the felt sense. As a practitioner, I use my intuition, my creativity and my heart to help guide a person as they release stored energy, trauma, and pain from their lives. Through this work, the person has a deeper sense of relaxation, their connected self, and a deeper sense of the possibilities for their life.
